Factors Driving Situation Table Adoption in BC

- Partners are tired of “disjointed approaches, fragmented interventions, and the tendency to work in silos.”
- Looking for support and direction to help agencies build and sustain multi-sector collaborations.

Turning Shared Data into Local Action

The screenshot shows a SharePoint site interface. At the top, it says 'SharePoint Sites'. Below that, the site title is 'Community Safety - Situation Tables' with a user profile 'GEE, ALEX PSSGEX'. The main content area is divided into three sections: 'Chair Calls', 'Document Library', and 'Template Library'. Each section contains a list of items with columns for 'Name', 'Modified', and 'Modified By'. The 'Chair Calls' section lists four items related to meeting notes. The 'Document Library' section lists various documents including distribution lists, analytic summaries, and sharing primers. The 'Template Library' section lists four templates for partnership, privacy impact assessment, steering committee terms of reference, and terms of reference.
