

LEPH2026

LEEDS
UK
6-9 SEPT

The Eighth International Conference on Law Enforcement & Public Health

The Global Law Enforcement and Public Health Association (GLEPHA) and the ESRC Vulnerability & Policing Futures Research Centre will jointly host the 8th International Law Enforcement and Public Health Conference, LEPH2026 in Leeds, West Yorkshire, UK from 6–9 September 2026.

Following highly successful conferences in North America, Africa and Europe, the 2026 global event in Leeds presents a unique opportunity to spotlight global research and world-leading practice across law enforcement and public health. The 2026 overarching theme will be vulnerability, policing and public health.

The conference will be open to law enforcement and public health agencies, national and local governments, relevant research bodies, academic institutes, policy makers as well as the commercial sector and other partner organisations. Bringing these diverse communities and perspectives together, the conference presents an ideal space for sharing and learning about new approaches, instigating and developing real change in practice, based on the best available evidence internationally.

Pre-register: leph2026.org

Get involved

You can get involved by becoming a supporter organisation, sponsoring aspects of the event, or helping to shape the event by proposing key initiatives, speakers and panels. There will be a formal call for abstracts towards the end of 2025. Please save the event date, and if you'd like to discuss opportunities for involvement, email vulnerabilitypolicing@york.ac.uk.

Vulnerability & Policing Futures
Research Centre

